Please amend the paragraph beginning on page 7, line 4, as follows:

--It goes without saying that many embodiments in addition to those described above are feasible. The shapes of the hoses and the grooves 4 can be varied in many ways. For example, the cross-sectional shape of the groove can be different in different parts of the hose 100. Instead of having grooves, the expansion portions can be designed in some other fashion, provided that efficient expansibility is obtained. For instance, the expansion portions 4 can be made of an elastic material which is put together with the wall portions 5, or of a weakened area which owing to its thinner wall thickness will be more elastic than the surrounding wall portions 5. By varying the above different parameters, the hose portions can thus be made to be displaced in the desired direction in pressurising or in case of vibrations. Of course, the preform of the hose can also be of a different design, according to the purpose of the hose. It should also be noted that a hose according to the invention, thanks to the expansion portions, can be made flexible. Also the direction of the flexibility is then dependent on the relationship of the expansion portions 4 and the wall portions 5.--
